Need A Small Yet Tough Feeder That Delivers? Your answer may be found in the LJ1FD.

Outfitted for commercial use with only the best electrical and mechanical components, the LJ1FD can be configured as a scatter or drop feeder. It is constructed of heavy duty polypropylene for maximum resistance to the elements.

The electronic timer can deliver feed up to 24 times per day, in intervals as close as 1 minute apart, and for durations of 1 to 99 seconds. The reliable and exclusive Sweeney timer is protected from reverse battery hookups or abnormally high current surges. An optional solar panel is available to maintain your battery's power.

Inexpensive to ship, the LJ1FD is just 30 pounds yet holds up to 70 pounds of feed. Complete the package with Sweeney's 1 year commercial warranty and you've got one tough feeder that delivers more than just feed. For more information on integrating this unique feeder into your aquaculture operation, please contact: Sweeney Enterprises, Inc., 321 Welfare Waring Rd., Boerne, TX 78006-7927 USA.
